Come join us for an informative evening. We will begin our evening with a delicious dinner and light conversation in Cauchi Hall (the large building in the rear of the facility) followed by an exchange of information regarding Kindergarten, its curriculum, and life at St. Agnes School as a life-long learner.

Every year, all parents make important decisions about the education of their children. Catholic parents have to make a decision impacted by a religious dimension as well. And while there are many wonderful schools, there are only three schools in this immediate area with a special identity we call "Catholic". St. Agnes School in Concord is one of these schools.

St. Agnes School, as an educational institution, has been in existence since 1967 when it opened its doors to children under the direction and guidance of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet. Over its 42 years, St. Agnes School has graduated children whose children and grandchildren are now students here.

St. Agnes School is fully accredited by the WCEA (Western Catholic Education Association) and the WASC (Western Association of Schools and Colleges). The school serves an ethnically diverse Catholic population.

St. Agnes School offers an education and curriculum that shares our Catholic heritage. Our students are encouraged to grow in God's love, live rooted in Gospel values, and develop their individual faith, skills and talents as God intends. In this context, a sound moral and educational foundation is laid. We strive to guide each of our students towards the fulfillment of their potential and trust that they leave our school empowered to lead lives rich in faith, love, and service.

If you want a faith based education for your children, a caring environment that values self worth and cultural diversity, and a culture that promotes the growth of each individual religiously, academically, personally, socially, physically, and emotionally, then we invite you to join us where the magic begins—in Kindergarten.
